

SRHMRA Submission 55 — Prof Allan Spigelman

Translation of research into better health:

Multiple evidence based guidelines are produced. Adherence to them is rarely evaluated. Nor is much thought given to how to drive behaviour to optimise adherence. Wellbeing and survival could be improved now, even without any further research breakthroughs, by attention to these aspects.